

ANIMATED PROGRAMMES

Educational for Children

Uncle Sladek's Little Traffic Warden /Dopraváčik uja Sládka/ 1-25

25 x 8', 2002, colour story and script: Ľuboš Midriak, script: Milan Sládek director: Ľuboš Midriak music: Martin Sabov, lyrics: Ľuboš Midriak cast: Milan Sládek, Anna Zemaníková

An educational animated/pantomimic series with narration aims to teach children of pre-school age to orientate in traffic.

The Drop /Kvapka/ 1-7

7 x 8', 1994, 35 mm colour story and script: Bernadetta Šilingerová director: Jaroslav Baran artist: Michal Dúha
music: Igor Bázlik

Animated educational series without narration about a busy little raindrop. With this raindrop children will experience a lot of adventures, as well as learn about the circulation of water in nature.

Have a Screw Loose! /Mať tak o koliesko viac!/ 1-13

13 x 6,5', 2003, colour
story and script: Ivan Popovič director: Ivan Popovič, Dávid Popovič artist: Ivan Popovič, Dávid Popovič music: Ľubo Belák cast: Ivan Popovič, Matej Landl – narrator

An entertaining animated series with narration surveying profound inventions of the 20th century. Every part strictly follows the facts, but at the same time, it does not miss humour and a detached view. This way it aims to address the wide range of spectators. Have a Screw Loose! is a type of family programme. Its attractiveness is enhanced by an unusual usage of several animation procedures - from classical animation to computer techniques. Every part is always addicted to one invention.